Dear Sir:—

Your card, reminding me of a standing order for priced catalogues, is here. I had forgotten such order, as I had not received one for some time, and, as I am now out of the active collection of coins, I will ask you to cancel the order. I do not think I will order the catalogue of the Jones sale. Please excuse the oversight in not cancelling my standing order before. Thanking you for your many courtesies, I am. Yours.

Frank T. Taylor.
